

Course Policies

School of Computing Policies and Guidelines

The class operates under the School of Computing's policies and guidelines. Among other things, linked page provides information about the academic misconduct policy that we will adhere to.

Also see the College of Engineering guidelines for information about appeals procedures, withdrawal procedures, and adding and repeating courses.

Collaboration and Cheating

Collaboration is encouraged; cheating will not be tolerated.

Honor code for this class

You are encouraged to discuss class materials with your peers. If you want you can form study groups because discussions help understanding. You are also welcome to discuss assignments.

However, you must write your own solutions, proofs and code and submit your own solution. Do not copy or ask for assignments from other students or the internet. Do not let someone else copy your submissions either.

If you are caught cheating once, you will receive a failing grade for that submission. If you are caught cheating again, you will fail the class.

For assignments, you should cite all sources that you refer to. This includes personal communication, books, papers, websites, etc. Doing so reflects academic integrity.

For the exams, of course, we will allow neither collaboration nor cheating!

Late Policy

All assignments must be submitted by the deadline. We will use the timestamp on Canvas as the submission time. Assignments will be accepted up to 48 hours after the deadline but will be assessed a 10% penalty. (Note that even if the submission is late by a few minutes it is counted as late and a 10% penalty will be assessed). The assignments submitted 48 hours after the deadline will receive a 0 grade.

The Americans with Disabilities Act

The University of Utah seeks to provide equal access to its programs, services, and activities for people with disabilities. If you will need accommodations in this class, reasonable prior notice needs to be given to the Center for Disability Services, 162 Olpin Union Building, (801) 581-5020. CDS will work with you and the instructor to make arrangements for accommodations. All written information in this course can be made available in an alternative format with prior notification to the Center for Disability Services.

University Safety Statement

The University of Utah values the safety of all campus community members. To report suspicious activity or to request a courtesy escort, call campus police at 801-585-COPS (801-585-2677). You will receive important emergency alerts and safety messages regarding campus safety via text message. For more information regarding safety and to view available training resources, including helpful videos, visit safeu.utah.edu.

Addressing Sexual Misconduct

Title IX makes it clear that violence and harassment based on sex and gender (which includes sexual orientation and gender identity/expression) is a civil rights offense subject to the same kinds of accountability and the same kinds of support applied to offenses against other protected categories such as race, national origin, color, religion, age, status as a person with a disability, veteran's status or genetic information. If you or someone you know has been harassed or assaulted, you are encouraged to report it to the Title IX Coordinator in the Office of Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action, 135 Park Building, 801-581-8365, or the Office of the Dean of Students, 270 Union Building, 801-581-7066. For support and confidential consultation, contact the Center for Student Wellness, 426 SSB, 801-581-7776. To report to the police, contact the Department of Public Safety, 801-585-2677(COPS).

Wellness

Personal concerns such as stress, anxiety, relationship difficulties, depression, cross-cultural differences, etc. can interfere with a student's ability to succeed and thrive at the University of Utah.

For helpful resources, contact the Center for Student Wellness online, or on the phone at 801-581-7776.